The Mayfair Antiques & Fine Art Fair is returning to London's West End and the five star London Marriott Hotel Grosvenor Square, London W1K 6JP from Thursday 12 to Sunday 15 January 2023. Over 40 fine art and antiques dealers are starting the year in style with this fair, organised by Ingrid Nilson of The Antiques Dealers Fair Limited, which returns after the pandemic made it impossible to host, although a virtual fair was held in January 2021.

Ingrid Nilson said: "It has been tough times for us all, but now that we all know what we are dealing with, there are enough exhibitors keen to get back to this fair and marvellous location in Mayfair, the first major London art and antiques fair of the year and our ninth edition. We are looking forward to welcoming back our followers and to introducing new visitors to the best from the best."

The fair has a magnificent international following including interior designers, collectors and, with its central location, lures foreigners visiting London, as well as people seeking unique pieces for their interiors. January's fair promises many different disciplines from specialist dealers, including clocks from Antiques Roadshow expert Richard Price, vintage watches from Timewise, ceramics from Carolyn Stoddart-Scott and Chinese porcelain from Santos London, amongst which is a superb pair of Chinese export porcelain chargers decorated in rich enamels from the famille rose (fencai) palette enamels with two horses and peonies, Yongzheng reign, Qing dynasty, circa 1730, POA. Hickmet Fine Arts and Morgan Strickland Decorative Arts both return with their comprehensive collection of Art Nouveau, Art Deco and mid-century sculpture, glass and accessories. 19th century European and contemporary bronzes come from Garret & Hurst Sculpture. Glass specialists Mark J West and M&D Moir stand again, the latter bringing European art glass. Jewellery specialists AG Antiques, Plaza and Wimpole Antiques supply glamour and daintier pieces. From Plaza comes a vintage amethyst, diamond and gold leopard pendant/brooch with emerald eyes, circa 1980s, £6,750.
